Newsletter

Creativity 🌱 Courage 🌱 Compassion

Dear Parents,

Welcome to the final newsletter of the academic year!

Please read the newsletter and remind yourself of those things that are happening at the end of this term.

The Blue Crystal

I am rarely speechless, but the amazing performance given by all the children really did leave me lost for words. The quality of both songs and acting was exceptional and it really did evidence the level of talent, confidence and discipline that the children have. A truly wonderful performance, which I feel lucky to have seen. Well done.

We will also be offering advice on how to support your child's transition back to school at the end of the holidays.

Documents coming home at the end of term

You will receive a round up of the learning that your child has been accessing this term. Please take the time to read this and talk about it with your children. They will be pleased to talk to you about everything that they have learned.

You will also be receiving the curriculum documents for next term and a letter which says what will be happening in the class in September. Please read this and keep it for reference, so that you know what is coming up when we start the new term.

Smart Watches

Please can we request that children do not bring in smart watches to school. At present we are experiencing some challenges resulting from their use, and we wish to formulate our school approach to these. I will be in touch, in due course to give an update on this.

There will be a short newsletter next week with some key holiday reminders.

Have a lovely weekend

Best wishes

Thought for the Week

This week we have been thinking about colours and honesty! It is great that there is so much colour in our world – and in the Church. After thinking about being honest, we could pray:

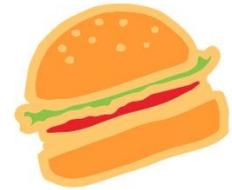

Heavenly Father, help us to understand that if we do wrong then other people suffer as a result. Give us the courage to be honest in what we say and what we do. If people do wrong to us, then make us generous in forgiving them. Amen
